Must Use Union Made Coffins.

The Chicago Federation of Labor has declared war on the Chicago Undertakers' Association, branding the body a "trust of the worst order."

The open declaration of hostilities was made at Sunday's meeting of the central labor body. After a lengthy discussion of the subject these conclusions were arrived at by the delegates to the meeting: No union man shall purchase a non-union coffin, or assist in paying for a non-union coffin for a member of his family or a friend.

No union man shall act as pallbearer at a funeral where a non-union coffin is used.

When the services of an undertaker are needed by a friend of a union man, it is his duty as a trade unionist to tell the members of the bereaved family how to secure a union coffin.

An investigation of the methods of acting and prices charged by the members of the Chicago Undertakers' Association shall be made at once and ways and means of suppressing the trust found.

The subject came up when a communication from the Woodworkers' Union was read which contained a complaint because of the supposed discrimination of the undertakers against union made coffins. Price list was attached showing that union coffins ranged in price from $5 to $40. Undertakers, according to the same information, charge anything from $50 to $300 for the same coffin.

No reason why the undertakers discriminated against the union men was set forth, but it was hinted that it was because the workers had suggested a union of professional pallbearers about two years ago.

Killed by Burglar.
Mrs. John Morrison, aged twenty-three years, was shot and killed early yesterday as she lay in bed with her fifteen-month-old child at their home in Cumboia, near Pottsville, Pa. John Morrison, her husband, said she was killed by a masked burglar, who, with two other masked robbers, visited the house before dawn.

According to Morrison, who is a fireman in an anthracite coal colliery, he was awakened by three masked men, who, at the point of revolvers, demanded that he give them money he had hidden on the first floor of his home. Two of the intruders, he says, accompanied him down stairs while the third stood guard over his wife. After handing over the money, he says, they made him return to bed.

The men then left the room, and as they were going down the stairway he fired two shots at them, causing the burglars to flee. As no bullet marks could be found in the house, he believes he shot one or more of the burglars.

Upon returning to bed, Morrison says, he found his wife dead, with a bullet in her left temple. He then gave the alarm. The husband says he believes the wife recognized the burglar who stood guard over her, and that the man instantly shot her.

The police are much mystified over the tragedy. Morrison is treasurer of a gun club, and was known to have about $75 of the organization's money in his home. About a month ago Morrison said he was held up by three masked men who robbed him of $15.

Settlement in Sight.
The opinion has gained ground all day in Algiers, Spain, that a settlement of the Franco-German controversy before the conference on Moroccan reforms is merely a matter of hours. It was current yesterday evening that terms of a compromise had been practically arranged and that announcement of an actual settlement probably would be made at the next plenary sitting of the conference, the date of which has not yet been definitely fixed, but which is expected to be held either today or Wednesday.

Details of the compromise are not obtainable, but it is stated that the concessions relate to both the police and the bank questions, the outstanding points of which are subject to mutual recession from the apparently rigid standpoints which France and Germany hitherto have maintained.

It is understood that the forward move is the result of pressure from the representatives of the neutral powers, who have displayed considerable impatience over the delay and urged that increased efforts be made by the French and German delegates toward a practical solution of the difficulties.

Indigestion is much of a habit. Don't get the habit. Take a little Kodol Dyspepsia Cure after eating and you will quit belching, puffing, palpitations and growling. Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Starving to Death.
Because her stomach was so weakened by over-drugging that she could not eat, Mrs. Mary H. Walters, of St. Clair St., Columbus, O., was literally starving to death. She writes: "My stomach was so weak from useless drugs that I could not eat, and my nerves so wrecked that I could not sleep; and not before I was given up to die was I induced to try Electric Bitters; with the wonderful result that improvement began at once, and a complete cure followed." Best health tonic on earth. 50c. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons druggists.

The Recent Storm.

The whole country east of the Mississippi river is, according to reports to the Weather Bureau, experiencing the effects of the prevailing storm, with temperatures below the average for this time of the year. Heavy rains have fallen in the south and snow in the north. The storm began Sunday night in the south and extended into New England, New York, the lower lake region and the upper Ohio Valley, where the rain turned into snow yesterday. The rivers in the States of Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, and the Carolinas are bank full, and stages above the danger line are expected today in a majority of the big waterways. The storm is expected to pass down the St. Lawrence Valley during the next twenty-four hours and fair, weather today is the prediction of the Weather Bureau for the region east of the Mississippi river, except in New England and eastern New York, where it will not clear until late in the day. High easterly gales have prevailed off the New England coast, with strong winds along the Middle and South Atlantic coasts.

After Richmond Dives.

The police department of Richmond has begun a movement which will put many of the city's disreputable resorts out of business. For more than a month the department has been discussing plans to close the so-called "dives" and dives. It is said that the police have compiled a list of these resorts, which will be submitted to the court prior to the granting of licenses, together with the record of each applicant and the troubles which have occurred in each place. The department will contest every application. It is believed that as a result the number of saloons in Richmond will be largely decreased. The legitimate clubs will not be molested but the Sunday saloons operated under the guise of clubs will receive attention.

Perilous Position of Young Woman.

While Miss Annie Rode, day telegraph operator for the Southern Railway at Cassey, in the suburbs of Lynchburg, was crossing Shavers' trestle, over Fishing creek, not far from her office, Sunday, No. 40 fast passenger train from the south came around a curve, to remain on the track meant death; to jump into the creek, twenty-five feet below, was perilous, but she saved her life by clinging to the end of the ties by her hands, her body suspended over the creek while the train passed. After the train had passed, she pulled herself onto the trestle again, spraining one of her hands and dropping a watch and pocket-book in the creek. Then she reported at the office and went to work.
